Christmas time is family time

Christmas time is family time which brings about a great opportunity to remind everyone that Simon Baynes Wholesale is a family business that has been passed down from generation to generation. Simon inherited the business from his grandmother Millie, and Simon Baynes Wholesale continues to run with the same values that Millie ran her business by.

Bronte cheese products are based on a recipe made in the 1830's. Simeon Robinson created the recipe when living in the home of the Bronte sisters. He later lived in Haworth which is said to be the setting for the famous 'Wuthering Heights'. All the cow's milk from the Bronte cheese products comes from farms around Haworth adding to the authenticity of this recipe.
